

A jazz band is performing in a studio setting. The band consists of a female pianist on the left, a female vocalist standing next to her, a male drummer, a male guitarist, and a horn section with four members (two trumpets and two saxophones). They are all wearing dark clothing. The background is a blue curtain. There are studio lights and equipment visible. A banner in the upper right corner provides contact information for hiring the band. The text 'The Rhythm Section Jazz Band' is overlaid in large red letters at the bottom.
